

logisticsmanager.com

Tuesday - 25 October 2011

Saga picks Seafield for ship contract

Published: 20 October 2011 02:08 PM
 Industry Channel: Transport & Distribution

Saga Shipping has awarded a warehousing and distribution contract to Seafield Logistics to support the consolidation of products for a cruise ship re-fit in Italy.

The ship has 720 rooms and will require products ranging from ceiling lights and fabrics to beds and furniture all of which will be stored at the Aylesham depot before being distributed to Italy.

A procurement team has been set up to deal with the new fitments for the ship and a small number of telephone orders will be handled by the UK distributor, who will also be responsible for advising on stock receipts and customer service calls.

Please complete and submit the following form to post your comment about this article. Note: all comments are subject to editorial review, so will not appear on the website immediately.

Author Name *

Email Address *

Comment *

Submit

Supply Chain Director...	Surrey	Permanent
Head of Logistics...	London	Permanent
Business Analyst...	London	Permanent
Transport Manager...	Kent	Permanent
Tactical Sales Manager - Global...	United Kingdom	Permanent
Logistics Manager (Transport &...	North West	Permanent