

Movers' mentors

A LOGISTICS firm has started up a mentoring scheme to train its staff.

Seafield Logistics, which has a warehouse in Aylesham, has begun the programme for new starters and recently promoted staff.

Human Resources manager Rebekah Rayner said: "We want new recruits to see working at Seafield Logistics as a career path rather than a job and to achieve this aim they need to feel valued and part of a team as soon as possible.

"We feel that as the mentors have had the training, they are the experts of the scheme within the company."

The mentoring programme is in the running for a UK Warehousing Association training award.
